WOMAN-BEATER IS CHARGED WITH MANSLAUGHTER

Hawaiian Who Assaulted Hospital Patient Held on Coroner's Jury Verdict

A coroner's jury brought in a verdict of manslaughter last night against Kou Kapioho, the Hawaiian, who last Thursday night entered the Mitamura hospital and attacked Mrs. Maria Rosa who was just recovering from a serious operation. As a result it is alleged of injuries received, Mrs. Rosa died Sunday morning and the motive was held pending the coroner's inquest.

Hawaiian band and is twenty years of age, testified that he had been drinking heavily all evening on the date of the assault but although he clearly remembered the events leading up to the attack, he could not recall what had transpired when he entered the room where Mrs. Rosa lay seriously ill.

Another result of the inquest is that Joseph Devas, brother of the dead woman, will institute civil proceedings against Dr. Mitamura, in whose hospital the assault and death took place.

Kapioho was arraigned before Judge Larnach in the police court this morning and his case was continued until Thursday to enable him to procure a lawyer.

ROTTEN BRIDGE IS A MENACE

A menace to safety of travelers and likely to go down, precipitating a fast-flying auto, filled with human freight, into deep water is the dire prediction coming from City and County Engineer Whitehouse, concerning a bridge that spans a swift-flowing stream near Waikane.

The Waikane bridge has been a matter over which the city and county supervisors have given much consideration. For months it has been declared unsafe. It will cost $800 to place it in repair. Last night the Waikane bridge problem was brought to the attention of the road committee, and they have been empowered to act immediately.

Whitehouse says the structure is rotten, its timbers rapidly decaying and that at no distant date an accident will be recorded there.

The city and county fathers passed upon the Honolulu road department expense account for June which totaled $11,208.98.

Residents and petitioners along Third Avenue, Kaimuki, ask that two blocks of the upper end of the thoroughfare be widened, and to indicate their anxiety in the matter, have subscribed $125, to assist in defraying the cost of the improvement.

Another complaint came in from residents in Pauoa Valley, among the signatures on the petition being that of Judge S. B. Dole. It was pointed out that nothing had been done toward improving the road there for many years. Heavy hauling in rainy weather was impossible. The road committee may decide to spend some money there.

Mayor Fern turned in an expense account of $72.56 for the maintenance of his auto for the month of June.

The city fathers want another steam roller, the claim being that all the municipal machines are in use by local contractors on city and county roads. It will cost $3750 to secure a new roller. Mr. James Lynch was an interested spectator at the meeting when the contemplated purchase of a machine was mooted.

Mrs. C. L. Wright has given notice that she will withdraw her offer of free land in upper Nuuanu Valley for a pound as the property in question is to be used for other purposes on and after September 1st.

"THEOCRAZY" FOR THIRD-PARTY NAME

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 12.—To Senator Dixon, manager of the Roosevelt campaign, has been sent an open letter by W. C. Sullivan, a member of the local bar, suggesting a name for the third party, which is to meet in convention next month at Chicago. The letter says:

"Understanding that you are experiencing some difficulty in selecting a name for the Roosevelt cohorts to meet in Chicago next month, assuming that you wish to choose the most appropriate designation for them, and realizing that the one bond which unites them, from Mr. Roosevelt himself to his humblest follower, is the fact that they are all crazy about him, I respectfully suggest the name 'Theocracy'."

A big cargo of general merchandise destined for importers on the Big Island left San Francisco Saturday afternoon in the Matson Navigation steamer Enterprise.

The American-Hawaiian freighter Alaskan, now at the railway wharf where a large general cargo is being discharged, will be dispatched for Salina Cruz by the way of Island ports on Thursday evening.

Mail leaving this port in the Matson Navigation steamer Wilhelmina is reported to have arrived at San Francisco early this morning.
